FEEDBACK FROM EDUCATORS:

For many of our students, this was their first opportunity viewing live professional theatre and I am thrilled that their initial experience was so thought-provoking, educational, and compelling.

I would like to thank you and your theatrical crew again for inspiring us with your insights, your passion, and your monumental message which unfolded beautifully through story, eloquent monologue, and media imagery. I also appreciated your Q & A component which provided our students a chance to process and personalize the experience with trained peers.

Your performance had a profound effect on our teens. It provided them with new language and images to think and speak about the value of human life and a current/ historical perspective on how people are/have been treated throughout the centuries.

Suzanne Osman, High School Teacher

Your show was powerful, engaging, honest and moving for our entire campus. Thank you for starting these tough conversations!

Nicole Bachanas, High School Clinical Director

My students were engaged and connected with the performance. These topics, unfortunately, are very relevant and my students were moved by what was presented. This led to great topics of discussion in class for English, History and religion.

Karie Sandoval, Middle School English Teacher

The performance opened up many thought provoking, deep conversations about the value of human life and the power of each person's actions.

Erin Brown, Middle School Teacher

This was an amazing performance witnessed by the adults and students. This production changed the lives of those who were in the audience to witness it.

Heidi Chavez, Middle School Principal

Wow! What an impactful performance and powerful message. The student performers were amazing and delivered their message clearly and effectively. I especially liked the pre- and post- show interactions by the performers with our student participants. Lots of great and positive feedback from the participating schools. Thank you!

Marian Clausen, 33rd District PTA President

The performance was outstanding! Our students could not stop talking about it and it led to meaningful conversations about respect and tolerance. Thank you just doesn't seem like it's enough.
